Learning Java Programming in Clara's World Oct 11 2021 This book introduces the key concepts of Java programming through the eyes of a small ladybug called Clara. Clara is a fun and extremely obedient insect, whose journey starts with limited skills. Readers learn programming by making Clara move around and manipulate objects in her world. As the book progresses, Clara becomes more intelligent and acquires new skills and (together with readers) learns by tackling some of the world's greatest challenges. The book explains programming concepts through real-world problems such as launching rockets into space, automatically patching potholes, developing a vacuum cleaner robot, simulating projectile motion, dynamically avoiding obstacles, delivering mail, etc. Every chapter of the book starts by presenting a challenge and then continues to explain new programming concepts with the focus on tackling this challenge. Focusing the new material explanation on these challenges helps to remind the readers of how this material is connected with the problems that they may encounter in the real world and makes it easier to relate to. You can explore all programming challenges presented in this book on the Clara's World website. Every programming problem covered in the book has a corresponding link to a problem template (for those readers willing to attempt the problem themselves), the link to the solution of this problem and a video recording of us solving this problem step-by-step. In addition, at the end of each chapter there is a link to fun exercises that readers are recommended to complete.

Active Server Pages Programming Feb 03 2021 The purpose of this book is to give the novice and the professional web designer a concise introduction to the features and use of ASP technology. The book does not assume that the reader has a programming background. The content, by design, emphasizes the "learning by doing" approach. The scripting languages that are used in the text include HTML, VBScript, Visual Basic and JScript. The text includes projects about database-driven websites, design of web forms, Ad Rotator implementations and the creation of COM components. The projects also include the use of application and session objects as well as cookies. You will study enough about ASP technology to understand what you are doing and will gain an understanding of ASP programming components by using them. After you complete the assignments in this book, you will be able to adapt many of them for your own website. The projects are designed to work with both Windows 98 and Windows 2000.
